

KNOWLEDGEABLE

Learn While You Scroll

Subconscious Learning Platform

June 2026 | Confidential

The Problem

Average UK adult spends 3.5 hours daily on social media

Most of that time produces no lasting value

Learning apps treat education as a task, not a habit

Academic content remains locked behind dense formats

Bite-sized learning tools lack social depth

People want to learn.

They just do not want it to feel like work.

The scroll habit already exists.

We redirect it.

The Solution

A social learning feed that turns scrolling into education

Personalised feed of bite-sized academic content

Summaries, opinions, research highlights, polls

AI explanations for any topic on demand

Full book and paper library with tracking

Social layer with following, chat, discussion

GCSE/A Level revision support

LinkedIn meets TikTok for academics

Free to use, premium at £15/month

Working prototype already built

Next.js, TypeScript, Firebase, Genkit AI

How It Works

Scroll & Learn

Personalised feed of content cards. Each is a short, digestible piece of knowledge.

Go Deeper

Tap any card for full text, threaded discussion, and AI explanations.

Build Your Library

Track books, save content to folders, curate your own reading lists.

Share & Discuss

Follow learners, chat directly, post opinions, vote on polls.
